

Ms. Rottmund's Class at WMS Loves Community Service

In fact, her students have been assembling pizza boxes for a local pizzeria and restaurant, "Mulberry Street" for three years. This year two students from Mrs. Kuhn's class have decided to help out. Her students initially started folding and assembling 100 pizza boxes a week and now they currently fold up to 150 boxes a week, in record time. Students are rewarded for their dedication and hard work every Thursday, with pizza and yummy zeppoles. This year her students had the opportunity to not only fold the pizza boxes at school but to travel to Mulberry Street on a monthly community outings. Students learned and practiced functional life and social skills such as ordering food, exchanging money as well as, cleaning and setting tables.
