

A Special Education Preschool Program for 3- and 4-Year-Old Children

Does your child have difficulty speaking, following directions, paying attention, learning or behaving age appropriately?

The Brentwood School District can arrange for the evaluation of your preschool child if you are concerned that your child may be delayed in some areas.

New York State licensed or certified professionals will do a complete evaluation at no cost to you. Funding is provided by state and local funds. Evaluations may include a psychological, a speech and educational evaluation, a social history, a medical, an occupational therapy evaluation, and physical therapy evaluation, as determined by individual children presenting problems.

Once an evaluation has been completed, the CPSE will meet to make a determination about appropriate placement, if any, for your child.

Depending on evaluation results, children may be in need of a center-based program with or without transportation (parents' choice), an integrated class, or related services. Those found to be developing age appropriately will be assisted with referral to area preschools.
